ATLAS-APEX ROOFING INC. PROUDLY ANNOUNCE THEIR LATEST EXPANSION IN WESTERN CANADA WITH THE OPENING OF THEIR NEW FULL-SERVICE BRANCH IN CALGARY ALBERTA.

With the highly-anticipated grand opening of their new branch in “Stampede City” located in the heart of Southern Alberta, Atlas-Apex Roofing are continuing their expansion across Canada, building on their strong foundation of people, technology, and an unwavering commitment to providing their customers with the best roofing experience in the industry.

Atlas-Apex Roofing Inc., the largest family-owned roofing company in Canada, are extremely pleased to announce their new branch opening in Calgary, Alberta. This expansion represents the latest milestone in their ongoing commitment to providing the complete range of top-tier industrial, commercial and institutional (ICI) roofing and sheet metal services from coast to coast.

“We have been supporting our valued customers throughout Western Canada for many years by steadily growing our branch network, while also leveraging support from our strong affiliations with trusted local partners.” Says Atlas-Apex Roofing Inc. President and General Manager, John Petrachek, “However, our long-term goal has always been to expand our own operations in the Southern Alberta region, to maximize efficiencies and to ensure the highest level of quality and consistency of the end product we deliver to our customers.” Mr. Petrachek adds “So, building on the phenomenal success we’ve seen through our Edmonton branch, we are very excited to be in Calgary to not only support our national clients as well as the local businesses, but also to engage with and play an active role in these vibrant communities.”

The team at Atlas-Apex Roofing (Calgary) Inc. will be under the direct guidance of Jason Lawson, who is the Branch Manager overseeing the Calgary branch. Jason’s experience and expertise in commercial roofing is vast, and draws from his many years in the field as a Senior Superintendent, and more recently as the Branch Manager in our Kitchener Ontario branch. Jason will provide his hands-on expertise with the day-to-day activities as well as general oversight of the operations as a key component of the ever-growing Atlas-Apex team. Jason can be reached directly at jlawson@atlas-apex.com and at 403-827-7452, or by contacting Atlas-Apex Roofing Inc. at inquiries@atlas-apex.com or via their national toll-free number 1-877-221-ROOF (7663).

This Southern Alberta expansion, the latest in their ongoing national growth plan, is yet another way that Atlas-Apex Roofing Inc. continue to provide their valued customers with the best roofing experience in the business.

Established in 1928, and as a founding member of the OIRCA in 1964, Atlas-Apex Roofing Inc. have grown from a small local roofing company operating in the Toronto area, to one of the largest commercial roofing contractors in Canada. With their corporate head office in Toronto, and additional full-service locations in each of the Canadian provinces, they have been providing their customers with the highest levels of service and expertise for over 90 years.
